

Littleton Powys - Books

[file: littbooks.bis]

BOOKS BY LITTLETON CHARLES POWYS

The Joy of It

London: Chapman & Hall, Ltd., 1937 [A volume of autobiography].

Still the Joy of It

London: Macdonald, 1956 [A further volume of autobiography]

The Powys Family

Note was a talk first given in May 1945, and it has been reprinted on a number of occasions, including The Welsh Review (Spring, 1948), Denys Val Baker's Little Reviews Anthology (Methuen, 1949), and as a privately printed pamphlet.

September, 1952

Note: Inscribed: with best wishes from Littleton C. Powys. October, 1952.

The Letters of Elizabeth Myers Edited with an introduction by her husband, Littleton C. Powys.

London: Chapman & Hall, 1951

Note: Inscribed: To Theodore F. Powys with my love. Your kindness to Elizabeth made her very happy. Newton, West Pennard, Glastonbury, Littleton C. Powys, All Saint's Day, 1951.

The Letters of Elizabeth Myers Edited with an introduction by her husband, Littleton C. Powys.

London: Chapman & Hall, 1951